LAURIE SORIANO BECOMES NAME PARTNER IN KING, HOLMES, PATERNO & SORIANO, LLP

The law firm of King, Holmes, Paterno & Soriano is pleased to announce a change in the firm's name to include partner Laurie Soriano.

Ms. Soriano, who joined the firm more than 4 years ago, enjoys a sterling reputation for integrity, intelligence, and experience in representing recording artists, composers, and record companies in the music, publishing and digital fields, as well as other major companies in their transactions relating to the entertainment industry.

Ms. Soriano earned undergraduate degrees in Economics and English from the University of Pennsylvania and her law degree from the University of California, Davis, where she served as the Editor-in-Chief of the UC Davis Law Review and was admitted to the Order of the Coif. Ms. Soriano started her career at Manatt, Phelps & Phillips, where she served as the Head of the firm's Music Department and Co-Chair of the firm's Entertainment Industry Practice Group.

Managing partner Howard King states "Laurie has significantly enhanced our firm's entertainment practice by expanding our clientele and training our lawyers and paralegals to perform at their very best. We want our community to know how much we value her by including her in the firm name. We also take this opportunity to thank Jill Berliner, who has left the firm, for her many contributions to our success."

King, Holmes, Paterno & Soriano has a national practice representing clients in all facets of entertainment, banking, and real estate transactions, as well as intellectual property, business and real estate litigation. The firm's lawyers possess comprehensive legal knowledge and expertise, as well as a keen understanding of the businesses in which their clients operate.
