The Real Winners of 'American Idol'

by The Insider 3:09 mins

Over the course of its 14 seasons – some have alleged that ‘American Idol’ has exploited millions of wannabe singers by forcing them to sign bad management deals for a chance to compete. Season 11 winner Phillip Phillips is the latest to cry foul and file a petition against the reality juggernaut. But 19 Entertainment – the management company run by ‘Idol’ creator Simon Fuller – has fired back with a statement of their own... “We have always acted in the best interest of Phillip. We will vigorously defend ourselves from any baseless claims to the contrary and from any attempt to interfere with our rights and relationships.” “The Insider with Yahoo” takes a closer look at the controversy to find out who the real winners of ‘American Idol’ are... Check out this video to get the inside scoop and tune in to the ‘Insider’ on TV tonight for the latest in entertainment news.
